Because God cares about us,
We can leave our cares with Him

Changes will be announced in church

Dear Friends,

I have just sent an email to our central office that included the following excerpt:

“So over the period of 11 days between 1200 & 1300 people came through the premises, I don’t know how you would describe that but it seems there would be elements of pre-evangelism, outreach & mission involved along the way. We were very excited about what God was doing for us, through us and despite us.”

I had sat down after the busy Christmas time and realised that we had been very blessed and wanted to share that with the rest of the denomination. If you want to read the whole thing then look at the reports from ‘Excited about Mission’ on the notice board near the entrance to the hall.

Often we don’t see the blessings until afterwards and then we may feel too tired to see anything, only wanting to sleep!

I think that there should be a time for us all to take stock of what God is doing in our lives, to stop and remember, to enjoy the wonder of seeing the work of a loving God for his people.

We have some plans for the year, something for the Queens Jubilee, maybe some involvement in the Olympics (no I’m not running in the marathon). We want to be available to any who come into our area with the Olympic football games being played at the Ricoh Arena.

Looking forward so that in the future we can look back and see the work God has done.

I pray that at the end of 2012 we will all have been blessed and be empowered by God to do more for Him.

God bless you,

Peter

OVERSEAS MISSIONS

ANNE LIVELY has volunteered to take on the role of Missions Secretary responsible for both Home and Overseas missions; she will continue to work alongside Joy and would like to give many thanks to Helen Fuertig for her 12 years work in this role; she will be a hard act to follow.

Anyone who has not already returned their red box is asked to do so as quickly as possible.

MEMBER'S MEETING

Reminder: Members were asked to come up with ways to raise money for the proposed new vestibule in the Church.
