Dear Friends,

I was looking at some pictures of our holiday and the notes I wrote whilst away, thinking what a wonderful world we live in. Each of us have at some time or another been amazed by the scenery we have been privileged to see, whether it be spectacular mountain ranges, or the small foliage of a plant.

We were able to see the snow covered mountains of Norway, the small inlets of the coast and the deep and vast fjords around the coast and experience the warm sunny day spent in picturesque Bergen. To be able to share with friends added to the wonder of it all.

However since we returned to Coventry we have not been closed to the wonder of what is around us, from the lovely walks that are available to us, to the privilege of seeing the Kingfisher not far from our house. In the Bible Jesus says 'Therefore speak I to them in parables; because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.' Matthew 13:13. Is it possible that we are the ones who see without seeing, and hear without hearing?

We laugh at people who do not listen to directions and end up in the wrong place or wrong queue or even the wrong train going in the wrong direction! There is a possibility that if we are not alert to what is being revealed to us in the world that God has given, we may miss an important directive or revelation. In Ephesians 6:18 it says 'Praying at all times in the Spirit, with all prayer and supplication. To that end keep alert with all perseverance, making supplication for all the saints.'

It seems to suggest that we should try to be aware so that we are ready for what God has for us and others.

Enjoy what you have and prepare yourself for all that is to come.

God bless you

Peter
